Mission
 The Department of Leadership & Educational Administration develops a community of scholar practitioners who transform the power of knowledge into service. Its core values include community, service, integrated life and human dignity.

The department supports three major programs: 1) K–12 Educational Administration, 2) Higher Education Administration, and 3) Leadership.

Educational Administration

Program Mission

The Educational Administration segment of the Leadership and Educational Administration Department (LEAD) seeks to prepare effective educational administrators for servant leadership in educational settings.

Program Emphasis

The Educational Administration program serves two constituencies: K–12 and higher education administrators. The two emphases share several components.

The Portfolio Component

The degree programs require the completion of a portfolio that documents the participant's work. These portfolios require documentation that evidences a level of mastery appropriate to each degree and can be presented in person or via electronic media. The portfolio must be assessed and approved by a faculty committee. More details on portfolio requirements are provided in the introductory course, EDAL500, required in all administration programs.

Continuous Registration

Educational Administration participants comply with continuous registration guidelines by enrolling in a course at least one semester out of three consecutive semesters until their program is complete. If participants want to remain active and not register for regular course work they will need to register for EDAL650 Program Continuation at least every third semester. This course has no credit but allows access to faculty advising and access to the Andrews University library. As an alternative to the above, a participant may request to go "Inactive." When "Active Status" is desired, the participant may request reactivation and pay the $500 "Reactivation Fee."

Time Limits

An Educational Administration participant must complete the requirements for the MA, EdS, EdD, and PhD degree within seven calendar years from the beginning of the first semester of class work after acceptance into the doctoral program, irrespective of admission classification.

K–12 Educational Administration Programs

K–12 Educational Administration programs at Andrews University are designed to prepare administrators for the opportunities in school leadership as principals, superintendents or supervisors. Whether you are an individual seeking to be mentored into an administrative position or a seasoned professional who wishes to enroll in a program that respects and uses your past experiences, we are ready to serve you in ways that meet your needs.

K–12 Educational Administration programs are guided by nine standards. The first six standards are derived from the Educational Leadership Constituent Council (ELCC), which is identified by our accrediting body, the National Council of Accreditation in Teacher Education (NCATE), as the appropriate council to provide guidance for K–12 Educational Administration programs. The additional three standards have been added in consultation with educational leaders in the North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists. The nine standards are listed below followed by an outline of the levels of study we offer.

Nine Guiding Standards

Candidates who complete the program are educational leaders who have the knowledge and ability to promote the success of all students by:

1. facilitating the development, articulation, implementation, and stewardship of a school or district vision of learning that is shared and supported by the school community;
2. promoting a positive school culture, providing an effective instructional program, applying best practice to student learning, and designing comprehensive professional growth plans for staff;
3. managing the organization, operations and resources in a way that promotes a safe, efficient and effective learning environment;
4. collaborating with families and other community members, responding to diverse community interests and needs, and mobilizing community resources;
5. acting with integrity, fairly, and in an ethical manner;
6. understanding, responding to, and influencing the larger political, social, economic, legal, and cultural context;
7. understanding and comprehensively applying technology to advance student achievement;
8. appreciating the perspectives of others and developing a personal philosophy from which action and service emerge; and
9. understanding and comprehensively applying research and evaluation for effective decision making.

The Internship/Mentoring Component

All degree programs require an internship/mentoring component that provides significant learning opportunities to synthesize and apply the knowledge and practice and develop the skills identified in the standards through substantial, sustained, standards-based work in a real setting, planned and guided cooperatively by the institution and school district personnel for graduate credit.

Five Levels of Study in K–12 Education Administration

- Level 1) Certificate/Licensure/Endorsement Programs
- Level 2) Masters (MA)
- Level 3) Educational Specialist (EdS)
- Level 4) Doctor of Education (EdD), and
- Level 5) Doctor of Philosophy (PhD)

Level 1. Educational Administration Certificate Programs, Requirements, and Application Process

Public School Administration Certification or Licensure

Although the certification and licensure requirements for public school administrators vary by state, the programs and courses offered below fulfill many of the requirements of most state certification programs. These courses and programs align with the ELCC standards that guide educational administration policies throughout the United States. Andrews University School of Education is also accredited by NCATE to offer educational programs. NCATE is the leading accrediting body for K–12 educational preparation programs. Andrews University is also accredited by North Central Association to offer graduate degrees. Because state requirements vary, it is the responsibility of prospective students to check with their own state or local authorities to determine what coursework meets the requirements for public school certification in their state.

NAD Certificate Endorsement

The educational administrator graduate certificate program is designed for post-baccalaureate or post-master's participants who desire to obtain an NAD Educational Administration certificate. Those specifically served by this graduate certificate are the following:

- Teachers interested in transitioning into educational administration
- Principals of K–8, K–10, K–12, and 9–12 schools
- Supervisors of instruction
- Superintendents of schools

The University offers the course work and a graduate certificate that can fulfill the Educational Administration certification requirements of the NAD Office of Education. In consultation with a University advisor, the student is responsible to create and successfully complete a course plan that will fulfill the specific NAD Office of Education requirements. The University does NOT provide the NAD certification or endorsement. Rather, the student applies to the NAD Office of Education through his or her union conference education department for Educational Administration certification.

Certificate/Endorsement Requirements (18–24 credits)

Graduate candidates interested in this certificate should review the recent guidelines of the NAD Office of Education to understand the qualifications for this certificate and its endorsements. Access the link at www.andrews.edu/sed/lead/. There are non-educational requirements for this certificate, and the candidate, not the University, has the responsibility to ensure compliance with these. NAD certification requires either a minimum of eighteen credits of graduate coursework selected from the areas of curriculum, school administration, supervision, school law, school finance, school plant planning, personnel administration, school public relations, religious education, and field experience, or the completion of a doctorate in school administration.

To be valid, the administrative certificate must be accompanied by an endorsement as principal, supervisor or superintendent. As such, the certificate course requirements have been incorporated into the unique requirements of each endorsement below. The NAD core requirements are shown corresponding to AU course requirements. Electives may need to be added to meet the required credits. Those electives may include the Administrative Internship (EDAL680), foundations courses, or additional graduate coursework in educational administration, curriculum, or supervision.

Application Process

Students may take certification courses on a permission-to-take classes basis (PTC). However, depending on financial aid and employer requirements, the student may need to apply and be accepted into a graduate certificate or degree program. At that point, through the petition process, the student may transfer up to eight PTC credits into a graduate certificate or degree program. To be admitted into the graduate certificate program students need to:

1. Complete a graduate school application, and
2. Check the “graduate certificate” circle on the application.

Note: A Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is not required for the graduate certificate programs.

Level 2. MA: K–12 Educational Administration Program, Requirements, and Application Process (34 credits)

The K–12 Educational Administration master's program is designed for post-baccalaureate participants who desire to obtain a degree in educational administration with or without Seventh-day Adventist NAD administrative endorsement. For NAD certification purposes, students need to have an NAD professional teaching certificate which requires graduate work in two of the following areas: learning theory/style, curriculum, improvement of instruction, education of the exceptional student, trends and issues in education, and multicultural education. As such, those completing this master's degree and wanting NAD administrative endorsement will also need to take an additional course from the areas listed if they have not done so.

Those specifically served by this degree are the following:

- Teachers interested in transitioning into educational administration
- Principals of K–8, K–10, K–12, and 9–12 schools

These programs also prepare leaders for service in many types of agencies and organizations. Both the Doctor of Education (EdD) and the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) programs require a minimum of 90 credits and the submission of a research-based article to a peer-reviewed publication. However, the PhD degree is more research-oriented and requires more courses in advanced research methodologies. Those specifically served by this degree are the following:

Higher Education Administration Programs

Higher education is one of the fastest growing areas of education in the world. Many faculty and administrators in higher education who do not have advanced degrees in their subject area often seek a degree in educational administration. As such, there is a high demand for higher education administration. This department has four degree options in this area: 1) Master's (MA), 2) Educational Specialist (EdS), 3) Doctor of Education (EdD), and 4) Doctor of Philosophy (PhD). As with the K–12 courses, portfolio requirements apply.

Guiding Principles for Higher Education

The Higher Education program of Andrews University is committed to the fundamental guiding principles of the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education (CAS), a consortium of 35 professional associations concerned with the development and promulgation of professional standards and guidelines for student learning and personal development support programs and services in institutions of higher learning.

According to the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education, the five guiding principles for Higher Education can be summarized as follows:

1. Students and Their Institutions (the student must be considered as a whole person)
  - Each student is a unique person and must be treated as such.
  - The student's total environment is educational and must be used to achieve full development.
  - Students seek higher education in responsible ways and will, when encouraged to do so, access appropriate educational resources when they are provided, made known, and relevant to students' felt educational and developmental needs.
  - Institutions of higher learning are purposeful and function as social and cultural resources to provide opportunities for students to learn and develop in holistic ways.
  - The primary responsibility for learning and development rests with the student.
  - Institutions of higher learning reflect the diversity of the societies and cultures in which they exist.
  - Institutions are responsible for creating learning environments that provide a choice of educational opportunities and challenge students to learn and develop while providing support to nurture their development.
2. Diversity and Multiculturalism
  - Institutions embrace diversity and eliminate barriers that impede student learning.
  - Justice and respect for differences bond individuals to community.
  - Education for multicultural awareness and positive regard for differences is essential to the development and maintenance of a health-engendering society.
  - All students must have access to the educational and co-curricular resources available to the academic community at large; no student, for any reason, should be denied access to them.
3. Organization, Educational Administration, and Human Resources
  - Capable, credible, knowledgeable, and experienced educational administration is essential for institutional success.
- Organizational units are most successful when their missions and outcome expectations are effectively documented and understood by all concerned.
- Effective programs and services require well-qualified staff members who understand and support the student learning and development outcomes the programs are intended to provide.
- Leaders and staff members alike must possess effective managerial skills, be properly titled, and be well-qualified by both education and experience.

  4. Health-Engendering Environments
    - Educational programs and services prosper in benevolent environments that provide students with appropriate levels of challenge and support.
    - The primary purpose of education has always been to promote change, both in individuals and in society. College and university student support programs are first and foremost educational enterprises.
  5. Ethical Considerations
    - Ethical standards are essential to guide the behavior of staff members in ways that enhance the program's overall integrity.
    - Because special mentoring relationships develop between students and those who facilitate their learning and development, support service providers must exemplify impeccable ethical behavior in both their professional relationships and personal lives.

Competency-Based Student Learning and Development Outcomes for the Higher Education Program

Higher Education Administration requires theoretical knowledge and practical application in the following core competencies:

1. Self-Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies focuses on the self awareness, intellectual growth, and the personal and professional identity required for inspiring and supporting the development of college students.
  - a. Philosophical foundations—Higher Education Administration functions within the context of multiple perspectives and a personal belief system and worldview that influence their practice.
  - b. Ethics, values, and spirituality—Higher Education Administration functions from a set of principles and personal values that guide their work, promote healthy behavior, and influence decision-making and their relationships with others.
  - c. Human development and career choice—Higher Education Administration is committed to continuous learning and personal development, articulating career choices based on assessment of interests, values, skills and abilities resulting from formal education, work experience, community service and volunteer experiences.
2. Interpersonal Development Competencies: This cluster of competencies focuses on the interpersonal aspects of Higher Education Administration that promote growth and development of others and challenge students to learn and develop in holistic ways.
  - a. Effective communication and mentoring—Higher Education Administration fosters effective communication in all internal and external interactions, to establish and maintain cooperative relationships that are trust-centered, providing empowerment that results in personal and performance improvement toward satisfying mutual objectives.

- b. Appreciating diversity—Higher Education Administration values one's own identity and culture and articulates the advantages and challenges of a diverse society, promoting multicultural awareness and positive regard for differences.
- c. Social responsibility—Higher Education Administration is accountable to others and endeavors to see that family, community, and environmental needs are met in local and in global ways, as appropriate.

3. Leadership and Organizational Development

Competencies: This cluster of competencies addresses the organizational aspects of Higher Education Administration, focusing on the achievement of goals and programs that make colleges and universities an educational enterprise.

- a. Resource development; human and financial—Higher Education Administration appropriately develops, allocates and manages human and financial resources for promoting change and fostering healthy and strategic outcomes.
- b. Legal and policy issues—Higher Education Administration applies and understands the scope of a legal and policy structure appropriate for their field.
- c. Organizational behavior, change, and culture—Higher Education Administration understands personal, group, and inter-group behaviors, and how they impact the organizational culture and shape the vision and strategy for facilitating the change process.

4. Research Development Competency: Research skills are necessary for engaging in organizational development, assessment and evaluation, and other Higher Education Administration projects

Conducting, evaluating and reporting research—Higher Education Administration understands the logic and processes of scientific inquiry, explains major research methodologies, formulates empirically-driven research problems, selects appropriate research designs, conducts basic data collection and analysis and adequately communicates research findings and implements the findings in the workplace.

International Focus

Higher education is becoming an increasingly global phenomenon characterized by international trade in educational services. For this reason, the Higher Education Administration program is structured with an international focus. As an international Adventist institution, Andrews University is uniquely positioned to offer the following opportunities:

International Study Tour. A seminar in International Higher Education in the format of a summer tour to visit systems of higher education that have influenced postsecondary education in different parts of the world, such as Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America. The tour includes campus visits and interaction with faculty and students of public, private, and Adventist international institutions of higher education, and meets the requirements of master's and doctoral programs. Travel expenses are mostly covered by tuition credits.

International Internships. The Higher Education Administration program works with international Seventh-day Adventist colleges and universities to develop an internship program that integrates theory and research with the practice of higher education in international settings. The extent and format of these programs vary and are negotiated on a personal basis between the participant and the institution.

Intercultural Seminar. This is a seminar in intercultural communication that explores the role of culture and diversity in today's organizations in order to develop cross-cultural competence and sensitivity. Explores issues such as effective communication across group barriers, leadership and culture, and the impact of cultural differences on relationships, decision making, motivation, conflict management, human resource development, and other leadership issues.

For further information, students may contact the coordinator of the Higher Education Administration program.

Undergraduate Leadership Program

The Undergraduate Leadership Certificate is a University-wide collaboration between academic departments and the Division of Student Life with the goal to prepare students for meaningful engagement in a global environment. It integrates knowledge and skills from the students' course of study into a concentration focused on building the students' capacity to influence their surroundings whether in the home, school, church or marketplace. Certificate graduates will learn to lead positive change, resist inappropriate change and recognize their calling.

The certificate has academic and co-curricular requirements that work together to develop leadership capacity. See pages 90–91 for complete details.

Graduate Leadership Program

The Leadership program represents a new concept in graduate education. It is offered by the School of Education as an international and interdisciplinary collaborative graduate program.

It is designed to meet the needs of mid-career leaders and to provide an innovative and highly flexible program allowing self-motivated learners the opportunity to pursue an MA, EdS, EdD, or PhD degree in the context of a learning community, without requiring a move of their families or a break in their careers. Participants in this interdisciplinary program come from a variety of professional backgrounds including healthcare, business, education, pastoring, the military, and government.

Defining the Program

The Leadership Program:

- Leads to an MA in Education with an emphasis in Leadership or EdS/EdD/PhD degrees in Leadership.
- Is established on the idea of developing and demonstrating competency in several key areas.
- Gives each participant the opportunity to design and carry out a Leadership and Learning Plan (LLP) in order to fulfill competency requirements.
- Allows participants to demonstrate competence through the oral presentation of a portfolio, which includes a written synthesis paper.
- Fosters collaboration and cooperation among its participants.

Characteristics of the Program

The program allows the self-directed learner to participate in a dynamic-action agenda devoted to service. The program's strengths are evident in several ways:

The Leadership Program is learner-driven. The participant works with an advisor and develops a plan of study with course work and directed activities to fit his/her needs. An extraordinary amount of personal ownership by the participant is critical for satisfactory completion of the program.

The Leadership Program is life-embedded. Participants are encouraged to use their work and life experience as the basic context to demonstrate the Leadership competencies.

The Leadership Program is competency-based. Although not listing a prescribed set of courses, the program is designed around a set of competencies, including both skill and knowledge-based areas necessary to demonstrate competence.

The Leadership Program builds a learning community. The participants collaborate in study groups and learn through various media.

The Leadership Program is flexible. The flexibility allows the educational needs, career goals, and past experience of the participant to play an important part in the development of an individualized plan of study and development.

The Leadership Program builds important bonds among its participants. The participants become partners in learning, both with faculty members and other participants. This process is enhanced by involvement in orientation activities, seminars, learning groups, and through continued contact and discussion via the Internet, and other forms of telecommunication.

The Leadership Program evaluates achievement.

- Throughout the course of study, individual achievement is evaluated on the basis of demonstrated competencies.
- The program is completed when the participant has demonstrated achievement of at least 15 competencies (see below).
- Demonstration of achievements is documented in a portfolio that is assembled throughout the program. The portfolio is presented for validation to a faculty team at the end of the program.
- For the MA and EdS degrees, a research project is completed and approved.
- For the EdD and PhD degrees, a doctoral dissertation must be completed, defended, and approved.

Applying to the Program

Applicants should read the Graduate Admissions Requirements section of this bulletin.

Potential participants should also communicate directly with the Leadership Program office to indicate how they have met or plan to meet the prerequisites for admission to the program.

Additional recommendations and interviews may be requested prior to formal admission to the program. Only a limited number of participants are admitted each year, so applicants should apply early.

  - 2) Regularly scheduled Leadership and Learning Group meetings, preferably on a monthly basis but at least seven times a year.
